Are You Getting The Most Out Of Your Team?

in association with

Bespoke Team Building

No matter what you're looking to achieve from your team building event, we will create a programme to suit you. Whether you're looking to enhance team work and communication, or for more specific team building activities, we can help. Just tell us exactly what you're looking to achieve and we'll fit around you to design the perfect programme.

Our bespoke team building can be run as one-off events or we can incorporate it longer-term into your business through programmes you may already be running, such as graduate inductions, people engagement programmes and change management.

Tailoring Your Team Building With Profiling Models

If you use a particular psychometric profiling model within your organisation, we can incorporate it into your team building day. Our accredited facilitators are practitioners in a range of profiling models including:

- Belbin
- Enneagram System
- Insights Discovery
- Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI)
- Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP)
- Strength Deployment Inventory (SDI)
- Clarity4D
- Luminar Spark

Try Teamsapes With Our Compliments

At Teamsapes, we will invest in you before you invest in us. We're so confident that you and your team will benefit from Teamsapes that we offer free taster days for event bookers.

Introducing Sundial Teamscapes

Welcome to Teamscapes. We've been running team building events for 25 years and specialise in the experiential learning model of team building, offering bespoke programmes that deliver results for a wide range of clients.

Why are Teamscapes so innovative?

Team building as an educational process - encourage your people to learn about themselves and each other.

Experiential learning; the process of 'learning by doing', knowledge and understanding gained by experience.

All in one pricing; bespoke events that deliver results whatever your budget.

Measurable tools to monitor progress in the workplace before, during and after the event.

Strengths are identified and resourcefully channelled to maximise efficiency.

Challenge the brain, not the body.

Achieve positive, long lasting effects on both individual and team performance.

Participants can qualify for a nationally recognised award.

Even playing field, irrespective of career level, age or ability.

Support your business strategy and drive success.

Where Can Teamscapes Be Run?

Teamscapes can be run anywhere. We have locations in Northamptonshire, Surrey, Warwickshire and Scotland, but are more than happy to run team building at a location of your choice.

Types Of Activities Available

Outdoor Activities

Our outdoor activities challenge the mind whilst you're stimulated by the outdoors. They address trust, creativity, analytical problem solving, leadership, co-ordination and communication.

Indoor Activities

Our indoor activities are specifically designed to help with team negotiation, collaboration and personal compromise. Ideal before or after team meetings and especially when linked to business strategy.

Culinary Activities

Fun and exciting, our culinary activities focus on skills of time management, planning, creativity and trust. Activities include cake decorating, creating delicious canapés and our popular Cocktail Challenge.

Extreme

Our Extreme activities offer more in-depth, intense team building experiences. They include a Cold Case Murder Mystery, "War Room" set in 1942 and our Chocolate Challenge Project.

Don't Just Take Our Word For It

"Brilliant! Lots of fun. Really engaging and we achieved our objectives. All of the team, without exception, enjoyed it."

AXA

"Absolutely superb! Teamscapes made me look at my team with fresh eyes."

NHS

"Teamscapes has provided a diverse range of team development opportunities for us that consistently inspire, motivate and allow our people to become better teams."

About Sundial Group

We are a multi-award winning group with three dedicated meeting venues, a team building company and a venue finding agency.

Family-owned and run, we have 50 years experience in the hospitality industry and pride ourselves on being the experts in events. We've been recognised for achievements in a wide range of areas including customer service, value for money, facilities, food and industry leadership and are proud to work with clients from a wide-range of sectors.

Our three beautiful country house venues - Barnett Hill in Surrey, Highgate House in Northamptonshire and Woodside in Warwickshire - all provide unrivalled dedicated meeting and training environments in prominent, accessible UK locations.

Our venues also lend themselves perfectly to leisure breaks, weddings and various events.

Teamscapes is our unique team-building company which has been designed to provide return-on-investment through experiential learning.

Activities are run both outdoors and indoors and we also run culinary-themed events. The activities suit the learning needs of everyone, regardless of career level, age or ability and are always fun.

Our SOS service specialises in finding venues anywhere in the world. We provide expert venue advice and use our insider knowledge of hundreds of venues to deliver tailored solutions.

Taking the time to understand our clients and their needs, we offer a range of services including venue inspections, price negotiations and supplier management.

About Waves

Waves, in association with Teamscapes, uses the 4 stages of the Learning Cycle to deliver innovative leadership and team development programmes.

Our holistic approach identifies individual, team and organisational needs and unlocks the potential at each level to deliver high performance. We can offer a range of indoor, outdoor, extreme and social activities, but can also develop new activities to suit individual needs

Programmes can be based on targeted interventions, support to existing talent, management/graduate programmes or longer-term support for transformation. We deliver the programme through high-quality facilitation and experiential learning. Our facilitators bring extensive experience of leadership, strategy development and team building from the highest levels of military and corporate sectors.
